Adsorption method, benzene, root surface area measured by (Luthra et al.), 185
Adults, natural teeth in, incisal guidance of (Ross), 155
Agent, luting, effect of convergence angle variation on computed stresses in, Part II. Crown retention (Nicholls), 651
Alginate impression material, versatile uses for (Fairchild), 266
Alloy restoration, dual-, scanning analysis of (Liatukas), 435
Alveolar bone loss, systemic factors in (Baylink et al.), 486
American Prosthodontic Society International Circuit Course Section: first decade (Vaughan), 218 Analyses and calculations, physical: load of temporomandibular joint (Hekneby), 303
Analysis, microprobe, of in vivo discoloration (Tuccillo and Nielsen), 285 scanning, of dual-alloy restoration (Liatukas), 435 stress, of symmetric restorations, Part I. Crown retention (Nicholls), 179 three-dimensional photoelastic stress, of maxillary complete dentures (Craig et al.), 122
Angle variation, convergence, effect of, on computed stresses in luting agent, Part II. Crown retention (Nicholls), 651
Anterior teeth, endodontic access for metal veneered crowns for (Dadmanesh), 297 tooth, fractured, crowned, repair technique for (Richardson and Padgett), 409
Anteroposterior position of mandible as related to centric relation registrations (Parker et al.), 262
Appliances, tooth movement and repositioning of mandible without (Ross), 290
Articulators, academics, and attitudes (Deane), 88 different, comparative study of sagittal and lateral condylar paths in (Javid), 130

Cavity—Cont'd
surface area, resistance to removal under tensile stress and its relationship to, II. Influence of cavity design, heat treatment, and cementation on MOD gold inlays (Mondelli et al.), 61 Cement, carboxylate, pin retention with (Wenckebach), 190 zinc phosphate, and Epoxylite CBA 9080, bacterial growth and pulpal changes under inlays cemented with (Brännström and Nyborg), 556 Cementation, cavity design, and heat treatment, influence of, on MOD gold inlays. II. Resistance to removal under tensile stress and its relationship to cavity surface area (Mondelli et al.), 61
Centric, Myo-Monitor: evaluation (Remien and Ash), 137 occlusion, skin-surface reference point for locating condyle with teeth in (Yohn), 514 relation and centric occlusion reconstructions, telemetric comparison of (Glickman et al.), 527 records: effect of muscle action (Lundeen), 244 registrations, anteroposterior position of mandible as related to (Parker et al.), 262
Cephalometric radiographs, application of, for prosthodontics (Perry), 254 Ceramic-coated subperiosteal implants. Part I. Pilot study (Reisbick and Benson), 204 Part II. Clinical and histologic evaluations (Benson et al.), 323
Chronic orofacial pain, differential diagnosis of (Alling and Burton), 66
Class V inlays, impression technique for (Azarmehr et al.), 591
Cleaning agents, effects of various conditioners and, on prepared dentin surfaces: scanning electron microscopic investigation (Brännström and Johnson), 422
Cleidocranial dysostosis—prosthodontic problem (Kelly and Nakamoto), 518 Clinical failure, crypt surface of blade-vent implants in: electron microscopic study (Meenaghan et al.), 681 and histologic evaluations, Part II. Ceramic-coated subperiosteal implants (Benson et al.), 323 Coating technique, modified photoelastic, method for measuring impression deformations with (Grajower and Stern), 431
Color matching in dentistry. Part III. Color control (Sproull), 146
Coloring heat-vulcanizing silicone materials, milling machine for, in maxillofacial prosthetics (Chalian et al.), 78
Complete crown abutments, copper-band impressions for (Ørstavik), 547 dentures, maxillary, three-dimensional photoelastic stress analysis of (Craig et al.), 122 work simplification in treatment with (Lombardi), 506 Composite resin, comparison of methods used in finishing—scanning electron microscope study (McLundie and Murray), 163 cores, pin-retained, for posterior teeth (McPhee), 566
Conditioners, various, and cleaning agents, effects of, on prepared dentin surfaces: scanning electron microscopic investigation (Brännström and Johnson), 422
Condylar paths, sagittal and lateral, comparative study of, in different articulators (Javid), 130
Condyle, skin-surface reference point for locating, with teeth in centric occlusion (Yohn), 514
Convergence angle variation, effect of, on computed stresses in luting agent, Part II. Crown retention (Nicholls), 651
Copper-band impressions for complete crown abutments (Ørstavik), 547 modeling-plastic, gingival recession with (Coelho and Brisman), 647
Cores, pin-retained composite resin, for posterior teeth (McPhee), 566
Coronal fractures of permanent posterior teeth, management of (Talim and Gohil), 172
Cosmetics in immediate dentures, technique for enhancing (McFee and Meier), 585
Cranial prosthesis, silicone rubber, construction and implantation of (Segall), 194
Cross-pinning for added retention (Fusilier), 397
Crown(s) abutments, complete, copper-band impressions for (Ørstavik), 547 metal veneered, for anterior teeth, endodontic access for (Dadmanesh), 297 retention. Part I. Stress analysis of symmetric restorations (Nicholls), 179 Part II. Effect of convergence angle variation on computed stresses in luting agent (Nicholls), 651
Crowned anterior tooth, fractured, repair technique for (Richardson and Padgett), 409
Crypt surface adjacent to metal endosseous implants, evaluation of: electron microscopic study in clinically successful implants (Meenaghan et al.), 574 of blade-vent implants in clinical failure: electron microscopic study (Meenaghan et al.), 681
Cuspid replacement, upper, by fixed partial denture (Kafalias), 384

Custom-made water-cooled trays for reversible hydrocolloid impressions in difficult situations (Parel and Matalon), 91
Cyclic neutropenia, rehabilitative management of (Binon and Dykema), 52

D

Deformations, impression, method for measuring, with modified photoelastic coating technique (Grajower and Stern), 431
Dental mechanics of Canada (Fee), 10 pulp, protection of, in construction of fixed partial denture prostheses (Collett), 637
Dentin surfaces, prepared, effects of various conditioners and cleaning agents on: scanning electron microscopic investigation (Brännström and Johnson), 422

Maxillofacial prosthodontics—1998 (Laney), 374
Maxillomandibular registrations made by different methods, radiographic comparisons of condyle-fossa relationships during (Wilkie et al.), 529
Mechanical stress, variation in response to, of human soft tissues as related to age (Kydd et al.), 493
Mediums, cementing, and retentive characteristics of dowels (Hanson and Caputo), 551 Metal backings for denture teeth (Buckner and LaVelle), 579 nonprecious, use of, for cast dowel and core (Pinkley and Morris), 78 Method(s) for classification of errors in dental esthetics (Lombardi), 501 different, radiographic comparisons of condyle-fossa relationships during maxillomandibular registrations made by (Wilkie et al.), 529 intraoral registration, reproducibility of molded condylar controls with. Part I. Simulated movement (Solberg and Clark), 520 simplified, for mixing dental stone (Rudd and Morrow), 675
Microleakage of pit and fissure sealants, in vitro assessment of (Rudolph et al.), 62
Microscope study, scanning electron. Compatibility of composite resin with pulp insulating materials (Grajower et al.), 70

Mixing dental stone, simplified method for (Rudd and Morrow), 675
Models, dental, fabrication of cold-curing molds for (Smith and Fisher), 672 Mold(s), cold-curing, for dental models, fabrication of (Smith and Fisher), 672 individual, and resin restoration for fractured angle of incisors (Rochette), 558 Movement, simulated. Reproducibility of molded condylar controls with intraoral registration method. Part I. (Solberg and Clark), 520
Mouth instruments, telescopic, for severely handicapped patients (Cloran), 435 Movement, simulated. Part I. Reproducibility of molded condylar controls with intraoral registration method (Solberg and Clark), 520
Mucosa, hypermobile, etiology and management of, overlying residual alveolar ridge (Desjardins and Tolman), 619

N

Nasalance in speech, quantitative and graphic analysis of prosthetic treatment for (Fletcher et al.), 284
Natural teeth, occlusal contacts of (Ross), 660 Neck cancer surgery, head and, philosophy of (Steckler and Jesse), 307
News and notes, 117, 236, 354, 470, 598, 720
Night guards, simplified technique for fabrication of (Becker et al.), 582
Nonprecious metal, use of, for cast dowel and core (Pinkley and Morris), 78

O

Obturation, prosthetic, of surgically acquired maxillary defects, speech intelligibility following (Majid et al.), 87
Occlusal adjustment, analysis of occlusion before and after (Kass and Knap), 163 contacts of natural teeth (Ross), 660 relationship(s), functional, technique for temporary acrylic resin coverage in (Josephson), 339 mandibular dysfunction, and temporomandibular joint pain, evaluating, by palpation (Bohl and Knap), 80 Occlusion, analysis of, before and after occlusal adjustment (Kass and Knap), 163 anterior, phonetics, and function (Murrell), 23 concepts, lineal, for complete dentures (Gronas and Stout), 122 traumatic, some aspects of biochemical dynamics in periodontal ligament and alveolar bone resulting from (Beerstecher and Bell), 646
Ocular prosthesis, quasi-integrated custom (Moore et al.), 439
Osseous contour reconstruction, new biomaterial for: Dacron/urethane composite (Leake), 182
Overdenture(s): patient selection, use of copings, and follow-up evaluation (Lord and Teel), 41
waxing tooth copings for (Welker and Kramer), 668 Overlay dentures, adverse effects of resilient denture liners in (Immekus and Aramany), 178
attachment for (Quinlivan), 256

P

Pain, temporomandibular joint, occlusal relationships, and mandibular dysfunction, evaluating, by palpation (Bohl and Knap), 80
Palatal seal, posterior, technique for adding (Moghadam and Scandrett), 443
Palpation, evaluating occlusal relationships, mandibular dysfunction, and temporomandibular joint pain by (Bohl and Knap), 80
Panoramic radiographs, use of, for evaluation and classification of mandibular resorption. Studies of residual ridge resorption. Part I (Wical and Swoope), 7
Partial denture(s) impressions, fixed, irreversible hydrocolloid for (Zuckerman), 657 removable, photoelastic analysis of pressure on teeth and bone supporting (Kratochvil and Caputo), 52 survey and design of diagnostic casts for (Coy and Arnold), 103 prosthodontics, removable—1998 (Henderson), 369 Patient(s) with dental prostheses, food selection, dietary adequacy, and related dental problems of (Hartsook), 32 facially deformed, experience with prefabricated silicone implants for reconstruction in (Habal and Chalian), 292 laryngectomized, prosthetic treatment of (Grisius et al.), 300 oriented approach: temporomandibular dysfunctional profile (Weinberg), 312 selection, use of copings, and follow-up evaluation: overdenture (Lord and Teel), 41 severely handicapped, telescopic mouth instruments for (Cloran), 435
Periodontal ligament and alveolar bone, some aspects of biochemical dynamics in, resulting from traumatic occlusion (Beerstecher and Bell), 646
Permanent, functional, esthetic incisal-angle restoration (Martin), 157
Philosophy of head and neck cancer surgery (Steckler and Jesse), 307
Phonetics, function, and anterior occlusion (Murrell), 23
Phosphorus, dietary calcium and, relationship of, to residual ridge resorption. Studies of residual ridge resorption. Part II (Wical and Swoope), 13
Photoelastic analysis of pressure on teeth and bone supporting removable partial dentures (Kratochvil and Caputo), 52

Pins, retention, and dental cements, relationship of (Hanson et al.), 428
Pit and fissure sealants, in vitro assessment of microleakage of (Rudolph et al.), 62
Polymethacrylate tooth implant, porous vitreous carbon: preliminary studies (Hodosh et al.), 326
Porcelain-fused-to-gold restorations, inherent structural defects of: preliminary report (Mintz et al.), 544
veneered fixed prostheses, dynamic esthetics in (Granger,) 534
Posterior palatal seal, technique for adding (Moghadam and Scandrett), 443
Postgraduate and refresher courses, 112, 462
Practical, search for (Wilkie), 251
Prefabricated silicone implants, experience with, for reconstruction in facially deformed patients (Habal and Chalian), 292 Preparation(s), extracoronal tooth, fundamentals of. Part I. Retention and resistance form (Gilboe and Teteruck), 651 modern Class II, with proximal retentive grooves, fracture strength of amalgam restorations in (Mondelli et al.), 564
Pressure on teeth and bone supporting removable partial dentures, photoelastic analysis of (Kratochvil and Caputo), 52
Procedure, cleaning, for applicator brushes (Johns et al.), 679
Professional discrimination retards implant progress (Linkow), 5
Profile, temporomandibular dysfunctional: patient-oriented approach (Weinberg), 312
Program, sonic-action denture cleaning, effectiveness of (Myers and Krol), 613
Prostheses, dental, food selection, dietary adequacy, and related dental problems of patients with (Hartsook), 32
porcelain-veneered fixed, dynamic esthetics in (Granger), 534
Prosthesis, quasi-integrated custom ocular (Moore et al.), 439
Prosthetic obturation of surgically acquired maxillary defects, speech intelligibility following (Majid et al.), 87 treatment of laryngectomized patient (Grisius et al.), 300 for nasalance in speech, quantitative and graphic analysis of (Fletcher et al.), 284 maxillary, and wider upper arch: arrangement of artificial teeth in abnormal jaw relations (Goyal and Bhargava), 107

Proximal retentive grooves, modern Class II preparations with, fracture strength of amalgam restorations in (Mondelli et al.), 564
Pulp insulating materials, compatibility of composite resin with. Scanning electron microscope study (Grajower et al.), 70

Quantitative and graphic analysis of prosthetic treatment for nasalance in speech (Fletcher et al.), 284
Quasi-integrated custom ocular prosthesis (Moore et al.), 439

Radiographic comparisons of condyle-fossa relationships during maxillomandibular registrations made by different methods (Wilkie et al.), 529
Radiographs, panoramic, use of, for evaluation and classification of mandibular resorption. Studies of residual ridge resorption. Part I (Wical and Swoope), 7
Readers' round table, 228, 700
Record bases, accurate-fitting (LaVere and Freda), 335
Refresher courses, postgraduate and, 112, 462
Registration(s), maxillomandibular, made by different methods, radiographic comparisons of condyle-fossa relationships during (Wilkie et al.), 529 method, intraoral, reproducibility of molded condylar controls with. Part I. Simulated movement (Solberg and Clark), 520 Relations, abnormal jaw, arrangement of artificial teeth in: mandibular protrusion and wider lower arch (Goyal and Bhargava), 458 maxillary protrusion and wider upper arch (Goyal and Bhargava), 107 Relationship(s), condyle-fossa, radiographic comparisons of, during maxillomandibular registrations made by different methods (Wilkie et al.), 529 of dental cements, pins, and retention (Hanson et al.), 428

Relationship(s)—Cont'd
dietary calcium and phosphorus to residual ridge resorption. Studies of residual ridge resorption. Part II (Wical and Swoope), 13 functional occlusal, technique for temporary acrylic resin coverage in (Josephson), 339 occlusal, mandibular dysfunction, and temporomandibular joint pain, evaluating, by palpation (Bohl and Knap), 80
